What is a solar lease / PPA hybrid?

Solar lease / PPA hybrid is a unique form of solar sales in which you buy solar panels outright. The company leases them to you to generate electricity, with the option to purchase the system later. This model provides the benefits of both solar leasing and PPAs, making it one of the best types of solar sales available today

Will rooftop solar be a competitive source of green electricity?

Overall, in most markets, rooftop solar is likely to continue to be a competitive source of green electricity. While the cost reductions of the past decade were primarily enabled by declining equipment costs--which we expect will continue to a certain extent--there likely will be other opportunities for cost savings.

Should you buy a heat pump or a solar rooftop?

Customers will also likely have different needs or motivations: While a solar rooftop customer typically wants to reduce electricity costs or increase independence from the grid, heat pump customers are more likely to buy during home construction or renovations or when they need to replace their heating system.

What happened to the solar market after the 'crash'?

Much has been made of the "crash" in the global residential solar market, and although the fall hurt, there was solid ground to land on. Many markets, including most US states, France, and the United Kingdom, have continued to grow, albeit at a slower pace than before (Exhibit 3).
