Will Hainan be China's first free trade port?

» China's Hainan Province aims at officially completing its formal customs closure operations on 18 December 2025, making it the nation's first Free Trade Port (FTP).

What is Hainan FTP?

Hainan FTP is not just another special economic zone; it is the first of its kind in China's special customs administration and a cornerstone of China's long-term strategic economic plan. It enables deeper liberalization in capital account convertibility, market access, data flow and cross-border services.

Can Hainan FTP match international economic and trade rules?

As the most open economy on the Chinese mainland, Hainan FTP has great potential for matching the high-standard international economic and trade rules. There is currently no official or clear definition of the term 'high-standard international economic and trade rules'.

Does Hainan free trade port require customs formalities?

There is no need to go through customs formalities for goods transshipped to the rest of China at the Hainan Free Trade Port. They shall be loaded and unloaded at the workplaces (sites) under customs supervision in the free trade port, stored separately from other goods under customs supervision, and identified with obvious marks.
